Traci is avid shopper who lives with her miniature schnauzer, Bandit, in San Antonio and Port Aransas, Texas. She does static training and just completed her first 5K.

Traci Smith doesn't just talk about success...she embodies it. An entrepreneur and business executive, Traci's personal story is one of defied odds, of achievement in the face of challenge and of success shared. Through her insight of the awesome power of the human mind to shape personal and professional happiness, Traci has helped those who are struggling to find their path and those who have achieved success to tackle greater goals.

In her uplifting and empowering book, Traci shares her true life success story – and the secrets we all have within us that, once revealed, made us unstoppable.

Traci explores the power we all have deep inside us that can lead to a life of bliss and prosperity. This knowledge is blended with practical tips for personal image, making the most of every hour of every day, finding balance, and the importance of expanding social and business networks. All these changes add up to big rewards for anyone who will take the time to explore them.
